DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 21-31 are pending.
2. The amendments to the specification and claims filed 3 February 2005 do not comply the Revised Amendment Practice of 37 CFR 1.121. Applicant must submit a new copy the amendment to the claims and the amendment to the specification on separate sheets.

A complete response to this Office action must include both compliance with the non-compliant amendment and a response to the issues set forth herein. Failure to fully comply with both of these requirements in the time period set forth in this Office action will be held to be non-responsive.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 21, 23-26 and 28 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In claims 21 and 25, line 3, the comma after "SEQ ID NO:1" should be deleted.

In claims 23-24, 26 and 28, line 1, there should be a comma before "wherein".

In claim 25, line 1, "event" is misspelled.
4. Claims 24 and 28 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. Corn oil (a fat) and corn syrup and starch (carbohydrates) do not contain DNA. Thus, the claims fail to include all the limitations of the parent claim.

Art Unit: 1638

5. Claim 30 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. Corn event MON863 inherently comprises SEQ ID NO:1 and 2; thus, claim 30 fails to further limit claim 29.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

6. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

7. Claims 21-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claims contain subject matter that was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Since the seed claimed is essential to the claimed invention, it must be obtainable by a repeatable method set forth in the specification or otherwise be readily available to the public. If a seed is not so obtainable or available, a deposit thereof may satisfy the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112. The specification does not disclose a repeatable process to obtain the exact same seed in each occurrence and it is not apparent if such a seed is readily available to the public. It is noted that Applicant has deposited seeds for MON863 at the ATCC, but there is no indication in the specification as to public availability. If the deposit of these seeds is made under the terms of the Budapest Treaty, then an affidavit or declaration by the Applicant, or a statement by an attorney of record over his or her signature and registration number, stating that the seeds will be irrevocably and without restriction or condition released to the public upon the issuance of a patent would satisfy the deposit requirement made herein. A minimum deposit of 2500 seeds is considered sufficient in the ordinary case to assure availability through the period for which a deposit must be maintained.

If the deposit has not been made under the Budapest Treaty, then in order to certify that the deposit meets the criteria set forth in 37 CFR 1.801-1.809, Applicant may provide assurance of compliance by an affidavit or declaration, or by a statement by an attorney of record over his or her signature and registration number showing that

(a) during the pendency of the application, access to the invention will be afforded to the Commissioner upon request;

(b) all restrictions upon availability to the public will be irrevocably removed upon granting of the patent;

(c) the deposit will be maintained in a public depository for a period of 30 years or 5 years after the last request or for the enforceable life of the patent, whichever is longer;

(d) the viability of the biological material at the time of deposit will be tested (see 37 CFR 1.807); and

(e) the deposit will be replaced if it should ever become inviable.

In addition, the identifying information set forth in 37 CFR 1.809(d) should be added to the specification. See 37 CFR 1.801 - 1.809 [MPEP 2401-2411.05] for additional explanation of these requirements.

8. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

9. Claims 23 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter that Applicant regards as the invention. Dependent claims are included in all rejections.

Art Unit: 1638

Claim 23 is not in proper Markush format as there is only one member of the first Markush Group.

Claim 28 lacks antecedent basis for the limitation "said sample" in line 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

10. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

11. Claims 24 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Vattikonda (2000, US Patent 6,137,038).

Vattikonda discloses corn starch, corn oil and corn syrup (column 6, lines 38-47).

12. Claims 21-22 and 29-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pershing et al (2003, US Patent 6,551,962).

The applied reference has a common [assignee OR inventor] with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Art Unit: 1638

Pershing et al discloses corn event MON863 plants and seeds (column 24, lines 30-37 and column 24, line 62, to column 25, line 7). The seeds are biological samples of the plant, and the plant is a biological sample of itself.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

13. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

14. Claims 21-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pershing et al (2003, US Patent 6,551,962).

The claims are drawn to biological samples and extracts of MON863.

The teachings of Pershing et al are discussed above. Pershing et al do not disclose extracts from MON863.

At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to prepare extracts from the corn event MON863 plants taught by Pershing et al. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to do so because corn flour, meal,, syrup, oil, starch and cereals are economically important products produced from corn,

Conclusion
